

Accounts Receivable Aging Report: Financial Data to Make Informed Decisions.

With more information, Blue Book Services members can make the best business decisions possible. One tool available to manage risk is the Accounts Receivable Aging Report. This report reflects current risk and pay performance trends on your customers or prospective customers through reported accounts receivable data.

For more than a decade, businesses throughout the United States, Canada and internationally have shared their accounts receivable (AR) aging files with Blue Book Services. AR Aging Reports provide these figures while maintaining the anonymity of those companies submitting the information.

What are the benefits of confidentially sharing your accounts receivable data with Blue Book Services?

- Gives you exclusive A/R Aging Report feature access
- Leads to quicker, more informed decisions
- Helps you and the industry by ensuring ample flow of credit information
- Spurs customer growth
- Adds to a comprehensive pool of credit information.

The accounts receivable aging report is easy to use.

Blue Book Members that contribute their AR aging data on a monthly basis have access to this exclusive report that appears within Blue Book Online Services company records under the “AR Reports” tab. In addition, the “Details” box on a company’s listing page indicates that aging data exists.
